SOON TO REPORT.
Mr. W. D. Ellis, Auditor, to Report Soon Concerning the Citizens' Bank.

It is expected that very soon Mr. W. D. Ellis, the auditor appointed to hear the case of the auditors against the stockholders of the Citizens' bank, will report. It will be remembered that the stock of this bank was at one time shaven down and where a number of shares had been subscribed for the subscribers were permitted to pay 50 per cent and received paid stock for half the shares subscribed for. This reduced the capital stock of the bank to two hundred thousand dollars. The assignees, Messrs. Thomson and Hill filed a bill against all the stockholders to require them to pay the amount of stock originally subscribed. Mr. Ellis was thereupon appointed auditor to ascertain how much the bank owed, and how much the stockholders had paid in, and how much was still due on their subscriptions. A number of stockholders engaged counsel to resist the payment on the ground that as the capital stock had been reduced by an act of the legislature before the debts of the bank were contracted and as the resolution of the directors ordering that full paid stock be issued to the amount of half the shares subscribed for by each stockholder was in conformity to law, no further demand could be made on the stockholders. Day before yesterday several attorneys made arguments before the auditor. Mr. R.
F. Abbott represented T. G. Healy, John C. Peck, Chapman, Rucker & Co., the firm of William E. Kild, T. M. Horsey, Mrs. B. W. Wrenn and others. Colonel Myatt represented James S.
Wylie, Beattie & Jones, M. O. H. Jones and others.
Mr. Marshall J. Clarke represented Dr. Roseman estate, Elsworth & Hall and others. Mr. Henry Lumpkin represented General Lawson and the estate of R. C. Robson. Mr. Henry Hillyer represented himself. The counsel for the assignees had been heard previously. The report will be made to the superior court very soon. There are two classes of stockholders, those who subscribed and paid up, and those who subscribed and never paid up their stock. Mr. Healy, for his part, says that he never subscribed for any of the stock, nor had anything to do with it, yet he is sued.

SMALL-BROTHERTON.
At the residence of Captain William Brotherton, 155 Whitehall street, one of the happiest nuptials of the year was consummated at noon yesterday.
The bride was Miss J. L. Brotherton, the accomplished daughter of Captain Brotherton, and the groom was Mr. Frank A. Small, a brilliant journalist, whose home has been in Atlanta for the past year. The ceremony was performed by the Rev.
Dr. Kendall, of Trinity church, in the presence of a few friends and relatives of the contracting parties. The bride was attired in a beautiful traveling suit, while the groom wore the conventional black. Immediately after the ceremony the bridal couple, accompanied by friends, were driven to the carshed, where they boarded the Western and Atlantic passenger train for New York, and where they will take up their residence.

The bride is a lady of refinement, and by her sweet disposition has won a host of friends in Atlanta whose good wishes will follow her through life. Mr. Small is a learned and able journalist who fathers about him friends wherever he goes.
He will assume an editorial position on a New York paper immediately.

A Suit Against a Hotel.
William McCarry, through his attorney, Mr. Clarence Moore, has instituted a suit against the Southern hotel for twenty dollars, which was stolen night before last. Mr. McCarry was a guest at the hotel, and during the night the money was stolen from him.
He makes the point that the law requires that hotel keepers shall keep a safe and have notice posted that guests must deposit their valuables.

CAUGHT IN THE ACT.
Officers Russell and Bone Detect Burglars at Their Work.

Shortly before twelve o'clock last night officers Bone and Russell, who were on duty on McDonough street, were drawn to John Guran's meatshop by the loud and incessant barking of dogs. As they approached the building, which is near Allen's store on McDonough street, they saw two men rush from the rear door and make as fast as they could go. The officers gave chase, and after a brief race succeeded in overtaking one of the fugitives, who proved to be a negro man named Tom Harris, and whom they locked up in the station house. An examination of the store showed that the thieves had torn away the wire-work in front of a window on McDonough street, and had entered the store through it. They then opened the back door, and, by the light of the moon, chopped up a lot of meat, which they were preparing to take away with them when the police came up and frightened them away. Harris is reticent and refuses to give his pals away.

The Parley Died.
Kirkpatrick, the negro who was shot by Mr. Donaldson, superintendent of the county chain gang, died yesterday afternoon. On Sunday night, it will be remembered, Mr. Donaldson detected some one stealing wood from his yard, and shot at him. On Wednesday, two days later, a negro man was found in an old house in the eastern outskirts of the city wounded in the leg. It was Kirkpatrick and his wound was made by Mr. Donaldson's shot. For two days he had been alone in the old house and his wounded leg was in a terrible condition. Yesterday about noon he was removed to the Electric Medical college on Butler street, where his leg was amputated. The shock was too great for Kirkpatrick's system and at five o'clock yesterday evening he died.

Mrs. Langtry's Last Night.
The comedy of the Honeymoon, so much like the Taming of the Shrew in motive, has more pure comedy than the somewhat grim play of Shakespeare and is more thoroughly enjoyable. Fully as much as the earlier drama it affords opportunity for running the gamut of woman's ways, whims and moods. Mrs. Langtry is much more pleasing an actress in the Honeymoon than in The Unequal Match. In the angry moods she lacked fiery expression, but in the softer and more delicate situations she came up to the mark and met with deserved applause. Of Mrs. Langtry's support Miss Kate Fattison was by far the best. In fact she is better trained than her principal, and is a charming comedian. Mr. Cooper, as the duke, Mr. Dalton, as the count, and Miss Lasse, as the countess, all did their part commendably, doing their work satisfactorily.

Mrs. Langtry's Movements.
Yesterday Mrs. Langtry spent a considerable amount of time in the open air. The day was lovely and the air was as balmy as spring time.
Mrs. Langtry and Miss Langtry took a walk around town under the escort of Mr. Schwab. Among the places visited was the studio of Mr. Moser, where Mrs. Langtry was much entertained with the sketches and paintings. During the afternoon she went riding with Mr. Alton Angier, an old friend of Mr. Schwab. The company left by the West Point train last night for Montgomery.

Saved His Money.
A Mr. Velven, whose home was once at Villa Rica, was indebted to Mr. Peak, of this city, in the sum of thirty dollars. Yesterday Mr. Peak ascertained that Mr. Velven was in Atlanta en route to Arkansas, and believing that he did not intend to pay the debt, Mr. Peak decided to have him arrested. Captain Moore's services were asked for, but as soon as Mr. Velven ascertained that his arrest was likely, he liquidated the debt and resumed his journey to Arkansas.

Baptist Sunday Schools.
The Baptist Sunday schools of the city will have a "grand rally" Sunday afternoon at three o'clock at the Central Baptist church. A programme of music and addresses will be prepared and rendered. Addresses will be made by Dr. Hornady, Dr. Gwin, Mr. John H. James and others.

Dr. Johnson's Condition.
Dr. Thad Johnson's condition was unchanged last night, yet his friends are more hopeful, and his physicians express the opinion that he will recover. Last night some colored men with guitars sung some very pretty songs under his window.
The music was much enjoyed by the doctor.

The Howard Case.
The trial of the case against Will Howard, charged with stealing from the mails, has been postponed until Monday. It is expected that it will come up on that day in the circuit court before Judge McKay.

The Tilly Trial.
The Tilly trial dragged its slow length along in the circuit court yesterday. There are about fifty more witnesses to testify. The case may be concluded to-day, however.

Badly Cut.
In a row in a Decatur street negro saloon Winsy Woods cut William Curry in the left side. The difficulty grew out of a game of pool. The wound is a serious one.

Wright, of Covington, are stopping at the Kimball.

southern district of Georgia, is in the city for a day or two on private business.

man sleepers "Oceana," carried out the Langtry company last night. He will be with the company during the southern tour.

Mr. J. H. Whitaker, a Boston capitalist, and his wife have rooms at the Kimball. They were here yesterday afternoon seeing the city, under the charge of Hon. R. A. Bacon, secretary of the railroad commission.
